A couple of you have commented on the diminished run that I use in, "Over The Rainbow."

Just like the diminished chord form, in that it repeats itself (and changes names) every four frets, so does this scale. Just notice that between the C and E strings, there's a one-fret jump. Once you play through the TAB, you'll see what I mean.

This diminished run works well over diminished and dom 7th chords...however, not on every dom 7th chord. Use your ears and you'll figure it out. It's also fun just to use a couple or three notes of the run (scale) when soloing.
